BEESON / BEASON CEMETERY

Some refer to this cemetery as the Vaughn Cemetery.

It is thought that a Vaughn gave this land for the cemetery.

A fenced and well maintained cemetery located east of Highway 494 exit. It is not visible from Highway 19.

To to Suqualena; turn off on Highway 19 N, then watch for a dirt road leading off to the right a short distance.

Buried here are descendants of the Revolutionary soldier Edward Beeson and were related to the renowned John Wesley Beeson who established the Meridian Womans College and Conservatory on Highland Avenue in Meridian in 1903.

EAKINS FAMILY CEMETERY
Lauderdale, Mississippi

COMPOSED BY

Judy Boucher
18532 Deep Passage Lane
Ft. Myers Beach, Florida 33931

Ms. Boucher recorded the following information while on a genealogical visit to Lauderdale County in August, 1993.

EAKINS FAMILY CEMETERY

Southeast of Lauderdale, MS, off Everette Mosley Road 1/2 mile North of Eakens-Payne Cemetery & across road

WILLIAM EAKINS

(c1800-aft 1880)
son of Joseph Eakins &
Elizabeth Pigford

MARGARET ANN EAKINS

(c1809-bef 1880)
dau of James & Eliz.
Walker

EDGAR ALONZO EAKENS

Oct 23, 1851
Aug 25 1928
(son of William & Margaret Eakins)

According to Grady Cole who was living in the old Eakins home, the three individuals above were buried in an above-ground crypt in the Eakins Family Cemetery. The cemetery is approx. 50 yards behind the old family home. In 1990 the crypt was deteriorated and fallen in.

MARGARET S. JENKINS

Mar 7, 1839

May 9, 1914

(dau of William & Margaret Eakins)

This gravestone is the only one remaining in the Eakins Family Cemetery.

According to Martha Pearson Cross, granddaughter of Susan Jane Eakins (dau of William Jasper Eakins, Sr., and Jane Prestwood Tartt), also buried there was:

WILLIAM JASPER EAKINS, SR.

(c1834 - before 1906)

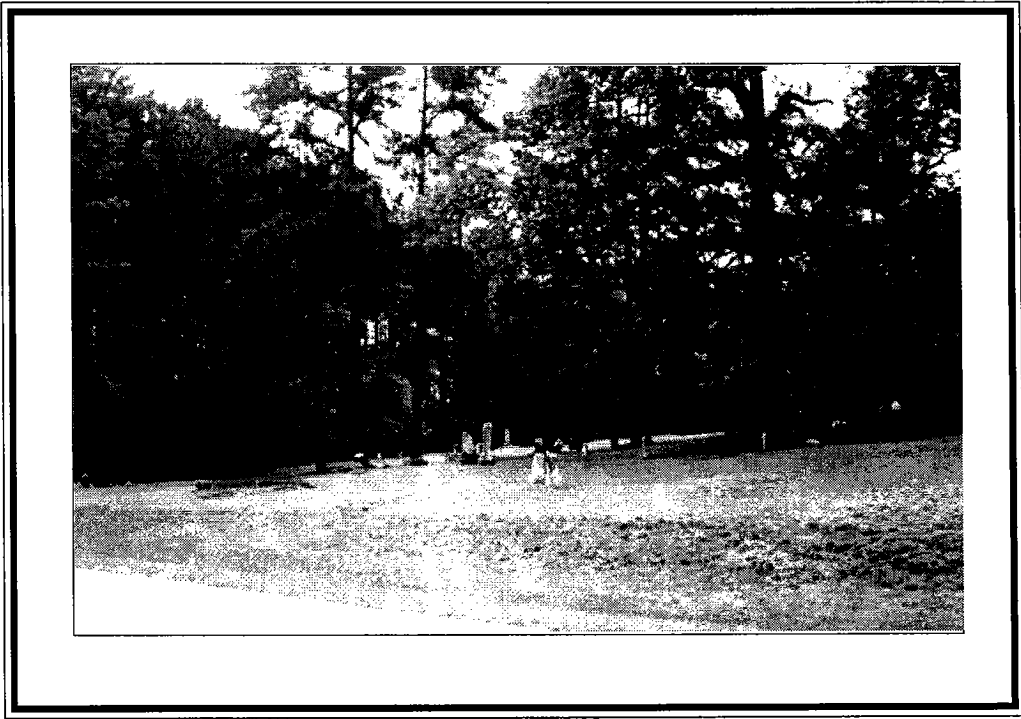

son of William & Margaret Eakins

The following listed cemeteries in the Lauderdale area were inventoried by the members of the Lauderdale 4-H Club under the leadership of Mrs. Parker Gray.

Among these forgotten cemeteries were:

Eakins - Payne Cemetery

Centeridge Cemetery with picture

Segars Cemetery

Moore's Cemetery.

It was a joy to see these youths record history around Lauderdale, MS (Lauderdale County), which was one of the four early communities in Lauderdale County after the county was constituted on December 23, 1833.

The Lauderdale County Archives salutes these youth of the Lauderdale 4-H Club of 1994.
