

DUNLAP of Iredell County, North Carolina

Gilbert Dunlap was born probably about 1710 and lived in Pennsylvania before moving with his wife Agnes to Rowan (now Iredell) County, North Carolina, about 1763. On February 12, 1765, he bought 300 acres on the ridge between the waters of Rocky River and Catawba River, part of the grant to the sons of Robert Johnson in 1757, from Simon McCormick; Thomas Cribbs witnessed the transaction, and Thomas Greer and James Potts swore they saw Gilbert Dunlap pay a note on February 13, 1765. Gilbert and Agnes Dunlap sold 60 acres of the land to Thomas Cribbs on August 13, 1775, and the remaining 240 acres to John Lister the following day. While there is no proof, Gilbert and Agnes Dunlap probably had, among others, the following children:¹

- a. Jane Dunlap, born c1735. married Thomas Greer
- b. Mary Dunlap, born c1745; married c1765 Thomas Johnson (see p. 17).
- c. Agnes Dunlap married Thomas Cribbs, who sold the 60 acres acquired from Gilbert Dunlap to James Barr on October 14, 1785, for £5; at that time he lived in Wilkes County, Georgia; in 1788/89 he was in Greene County, Georgia. In 1805 he was in Jackson County, Georgia, with his sons Gilbert and William, and the family later moved to Tennessee.²
- d. Elizabeth Dunlap married 1775 John Lister, who sold the land acquired from Gilbert Dunlap to Anne Torrance for £265 on May 1, 1789. On July 9, 1794, Lister received a warrant for 700 acres for headrights in Greene County, Georgia, where he lived in 1805.³

1. Jane Dunlap was born about 1735, probably in Pennsylvania, and died before 1793 in Richmond (now Columbia) County, Georgia. About 1753 she married Thomas Greer, born about 1730, moved to Rowan (now Iredell) County, North Carolina, about 1763. On January 4, 1765, Greer bought 326 acres from James Termin for £70; the following day he witnessed the sale of land from John, Thomas and Robert Johnson to Simon McCormick. On January 15, 1768, Thomas and Jane Greer sold their land to John Miller for £130 and moved to Richmond (now Columbia) County, Georgia, where in May, 1769, with his wife and nine children, he petitioned for 250 acres on Uchee Creek, four miles from the mouth, where he then lived. He was a justice of the peace in Richmond County in 1781/82 and road commissioner in 1783.⁴

Greer received 200 acres on Uchee Creek by headright and an adjoining 200 acres on an old warrant; in 1784 he asked the state of Georgia for 287½ acres in Washington County for his Revolutionary services. On July 20, 1785, he sold Robert Allison 200 acres on Harris' Branch in Greene County, Georgia, which had been granted to him by Gov. John Houston in 1784, and on October 13, 1787, he sold James Garrett 287½ acres on Harris' Branch.⁵

Thomas Greer on September 3, 1793, sold Peter Stubblefield his 400 acre home on Uchee Creek in Columbia County, Georgia, 250 acres of which had been granted to him on October 6, 1772, by Gov. James Habersham, and 150 acres by Gov. Samuel Elbert. On November 7, 1793, he sold 287½ acres on Town Creek in Greene County, Georgia, to his son Gilbert. Greer died shortly thereafter and his son Thomas was granted administration of the estate on December 11, 1793; the inventory was valued at £294.2.2 on December 17, 1793. The final distribution to the heirs was recorded in March, 1817.⁶ The children of Thomas and Jane Greer were as follows:

- g. Phoebe Johnson, born c1756.

1. Thomas Johnson was born March 10, 1742, and lived in Rowan (now Iredell) County, North Carolina, as early as 1757. On January 5, 1765, he and his brothers John and Robert sold 300 acres of their land grant to Simon McCormick for £50, and on September 11, 1765, they sold the remaining 311 acres to Adam Torrance for £100.³ Tom Johnson married Mary Dunlap (see p. 9) in 1765/6 and then moved to Uchee Creek in Richmond (now Columbia) County, Georgia, where his wife died about 1775. About 1779 he married Agnes Greer (see p. 10).⁴

Johnson served in the First Battalion of Richmond County, militia in the American Revolution; on March 22, 1784, Colonel James McNeil certified that he had served as a refugee from 1781 to the expulsion of the British from the state. Johnson asked for bounty land in Washington County, Georgia, for his services; in 1785 he paid taxes on 287½ acres in Washington County and 550 acres in Captain Karr's district of Wilkes (now Greene) County, which lands were confirmed by grants from the state of Georgia in 1784 and 1786 respectively. He was also granted 200 acres in Richmond County in 1787.⁵

Tom Johnson was already living in Wilkes (now Greene) County, Georgia, on March 10, 1785, when he sold William Johnson 150 acres on Uchee Creek in Richmond (now Columbia) County. On September 28, 1787, he sold Thomas Stanley 287½ acres on the waters of Richland Creek in Greene County. In 1788 and afterwards, he paid taxes on 350 acres in Greene County. On July 20, 1790, he sold William Hays 100 acres on the North Fork of Ogeechee, part of his grant of 1786; on November 19, 1796, he gave his son Gilbert 30 acres from the same grant. On January 9, 1797, he sold land on Ogeechee to Hezekiah Cartwright, and on September 18, 1798, he sold 70 acres on Ogeechee to Peter Cartwright.⁶

In 1800, Thomas Johnson was Greene County tax collector, and in the 1807 Georgia land lottery he drew lot #189, District 14, Baldwin County.⁷ On December 26, 1804, he sold William King 22½ acres on the North Fork of the Ogeechee, and on January 22, 1814, he sold James Nisbet 108 acres and John Johnson 32 acres on the North Fork, part of the land where Thomas lived. On January 30, 1816, he made his will, leaving his remaining property to his wife and two youngest daughters. He died on March 5, 1816.⁸ About 1817, Agnes Johnson and her children moved to Dallas County, Alabama, where she died on September 5, 1820.⁹

5. Thomas Johnson was born September 30, 1772, and lived on Uchee Creek in Richmond (now Columbia) County, Georgia, until 1784; when he moved to a plantation on the north side of the North Fork of the Ogeechee River in Wilkes (now Greene) County, Georgia. It is sometimes difficult to determine which references are to him or to his father or others of the same name.³⁸

Thomas Johnson married Mary Taylor (see p. 145) in Greene County about 1807, and on August 7, 1808, he received an interest in 74 acres on the South Fork of Ogeechee, his share of the estate of his father-in-law, James Taylor, from the executors, and on August 11, 1808, he sold his share to Alexander Taylor, his brother-in-law, for $165.00. On August 14, 1808, he bought 100 acres on the North Fork of Ogeechee from John Curtis for $400.00; on November 22, 1811, he bought 59 acres on the North Fork of Ogeechee from William Greer for $354.00.³⁹

In 1812, Thomas Johnson was appointed guardian of Sarah Ann Taylor, his sister-in-law, and on January 21, 1814, he and the other heirs of James Taylor sold 187 acres on the South Fork of Ogeechee to Dennis Sheridan for $600.00. For many years he was a justice of the peace and tax receiver in Greene County, and in 1817 he took the census in Major Nicholas Howard's battalion in Greene County.⁴⁰

In January, 1813, he and Martha Cartwright administered the estate of John Cartwright, and in 1816 he was an appraiser of the estate of Thomas Johnson, Sr. In September, 1821, he was administrator of the estate of his brother, Robert Johnson, and posted a $7,000.00 bond with Gilbert Johnson and Alexander B. Taylor as securities. He bought part of Robert's personal property at his sale on January 11, 1822, and as Robert's administrator he sold land in Walton County to Henry Jones in November, 1823, and he sold four slaves to William H. George in Greensboro on January 1, 1828.⁴¹

Thomas Johnson continued to acquire land in Greene County; on September 1, 1815, he bought 250 acres on the Ogeechee from Alexander King for $750.00, and the same day sold 55½ acres of it to Gilbert D. Johnson; on March 2, 1820, he sold 12.3 acres to James Dolvin. He recovered 128 acres on the North and South Ogeechee from Allen Shelton in a suit in March, 1821. In 1825 he was taxed on 384 acres and 10 slaves.⁴²

About 1828 Thomas Johnson moved to Newton County, Georgia, where he died, probably early in 1830. An inventory of his personal estate, taken on March 19, 1830, shows a total value of $8,641.60, including 12 slaves valued at $3,325.00 and many promissory notes, most of them made after his removal to Newton County. The slaves were divided among the widow and children, a guardian was appointed for the minor heirs, and the younger boys were sent to Jefferson Academy.⁴³

Thomas Johnson's plantation was divided after his death; Clayton Huff bought 125.3 acres, part of lot 211, First Walton District, except for the land reserved for the widow, for $501.20 on March 27, 1833. On the same day, Alexander H. Luckie bought another 125 acres, the north half of lot 223, First Walton District, on the waters of Shoal Creek for $1,300.37.⁴⁴

Mary Johnson died in 1835 in Newton County and her estate was inven-

toried on December 14, 1835, with a value of $1,537.12, sold the same day, and the proceeds divided among the heirs. On April 5, 1836, Robert Rakestraw bought the remaining 124 acres, part of lot 211, First Walton District for $801.50. On August 31, 1849, the children of Thomas and Mary Johnson sold lot 119, Seventh District of Henry County, Georgia, consisting of 202½ acres, to Waide H. Turner.⁴⁵

The children of Thomas and Mary Johnson were as follows:⁴⁶
