PREFACE

The purpose of this book is to put into print the information we have gathered about the Bunyard family. It will then be available for future generations. Hopefully we will receive additions and corrections from those who are currently working on the Bunyards.

We don't expect this book to be the end of our research. It is envisioned that another book will be printed in five to ten years including the additions and corrections - perhaps the year 2000.

We have received information and help from so many people in the past years. We wish to thank you all. Those who have been very helpful, but didn't wish to participate actively on the book are:

Chapter IX - Census

The records in this chapter are the ones we have at this time. Additional records may be found with a more thorough search of the censuses in the future.

Even with a more thorough search some records may never be found. #91. Pitman L Bunyard was found in the census of 1830. He was alive in 1840, but no record of he or his family was found.

#454. Larkin F Bunyard was listed as a resident of Lauderdale Co, Ms in 1850 - however he is not found in the 1850 census. He is listed in the 1860 census of Arkansas Co, Ar. Again he and his family are missing in the 1870 census. Yet he remarried in 1871 Arkansas Co, Ar.

#24. John Bunyard was in Franklin Co, In in 1830. He was in found in Shelby Co, In in 1850. He was not found in 1840 and was most likely in Franklin Co, In. It has been discovered - in the filming of the 1840 census a page of names has been omitted. There were about 32 families on this missing page. Frame 0183 showed the names on page 279, frame 0184 showed the additional information for the families on listed on page 279, frame 0185 showed the additional information for the families on page 280. Page 280 was never filmed.

In some cases, Bunyards have not been found even though there is a census index for that year. Many errors were made with the name Bunyard when the indexes were made. In one case the 'y' looked like a 'j' to the index maker. In other cases Bunyard was indexed as Bernard, Baynard, and Bowford. This doesn't take into account the number of ways Bunyard was spelled.

Not all states have an index for 1860 and 1870.

The 1880 soundex/index only lists those families with a child ten years old or younger living in the household. For this reason there are many Bunyards in the 1880 census records who have never been found. Perhaps someday an index for all the families of 1880 will be issued.

1900 soundex/index - we made no attempt to find all Bunyards - even those who were indexed as Bunyard.

1830 Wayne Co, Ohio pg 22 - John Bunyard not Bunyard - he was a Bungard.

The Wayne Co, Ohio tax records were checked for a period before and after 1830. John was always called Bungard and his widow was called Catharine Bungard.

Ashe Co, NC -

The part of Wilkes County became Ashe County in 1799 is beyond the Blue Ridge Mountians and is not far from where the three branches of Roaring River headed. People who got land on Roaring River are found in Ashe after its creation. Records indicate that Bunyard moved over onto the land he entered in the Ashe area.

WILLIAM HENRY ROSE AND MARY FLORENCE PELFRY,
MY GREAT GRANDPARENTS

William Henry Rose was born 7 March 1869 in Lawrence County to the parents of John Rose and Perlina Fife (Fyffe). He married Mary Florence Pelfry, daughter of Miles Pelfry and Mary Emily Bunyard on 10 April 1893 in Lawrence County. Mary was born 12 December 1875 in Lawrence County, Kentucky. They spent their early years of marriage in Lawrence and made a hasty move by train to Idaho in 1907. By then they had three children: Minnie Jane Rose, Clara Rose, and Thomas M. Harrison Rose. They chose as their new land an area which was on the direct route of the old Oregon Trail, American Falls. This area was a favorite camping place on the Oregon Trail. Later it became a railroad station when the Union Pacific Railroad built its line across Idaho. Mary and William saw many changes in their new land and mainly it was the expansion of the farm land. They were dry farmers and so welcomed a new dam with its promising features of more irrigation water. Another child was born to them by the name of Stella Molly Rose in Pocatello, Idaho.

I recall very distinctly Mary Rose, my great-grandmother, as she lived until she was about 93 years old. She was a very hard worker maintaining her own home and garden until just a few years before her death. She was often found quilting and this was a hobby she loved. Also she made many pioneer bonnets for the L.D.S. Church and could be seen with her own bonnet whenever she went outside. They were both members of the L.D.S. Church before they moved West. My mother could not recall if Mary could read or write and she thinks maybe she didn't know how but that did not slow her down. She was definitely a pioneer of American Falls. Mary wore black for many years after her husband died. He died on 8 April 1932 in American Falls and she lived thirty-six more years enjoying her many grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was an ideal grandmother and always cooked a meal for anyone who came over.

BENJAMIN JONES AND MINNIE JANE ROSE

Minnie Jane Rose was born in Lawrence County, Kentucky on the 30th day of December 1894 and moved with her family to Idaho around the year 1907. Her parents were William Henry Rose and Mary Pelfry. Their train ride from Kentucky probably took four days and three nights of travel to reach Idaho. She would have been around fourteen years when she made the trip along with her brother, Tomas M. Harrison Rose, and her two sisters, Clara Rose and Stella Molly Rose. Her ancestors had been living in Lawrence County for almost a 100 years having arrived from North Carolina.

It must have been quite a shock for Minnie to see the dry sagebrush area that surrounded American Falls, Idaho, rather than the green lush hillsides of Kentucky but soon large irrigation systems around the Snake River provided the needed water for the farm families. They chose to live on land near Little Creek which is about 7 miles from the town. They lived in a two room house and her mother continued living there until the early 1960's when Mary bought a little house in American Falls. Minnie's father William Rose had died in 1922.

Minnie was a beautiful young lady and her winning smile captured the interest of a young handsome farmer named Benjamin Clarence Jones. She waited until she was eighteen years of age before she married him. Their life together was very happy and Minnie loved to laugh and got much out of life. They never had a fancy house but that did not keep her from enjoying those things which she did have. They loved to dance and many evenings were spent singing with their family or dancing at the school houses. She loved to read books on western life, Death Valley days, etc. to her girls who consisted of Jessie Minnie Jones born 2 March 1914; Mildred Florence Jones born 9 August 1916; Clara Edna Jones born 15 June 1918; Mary Elaine Jones born 15 June 1929; and Dolly Bebe Jones born 26 January 1931. They were all born in American Falls. Her husband Ben did alot of farming around the area but generally worked for others rather than having his own farm. He helped his mother alot because she had been left a widow at a very early age and was trying to raise a family of six by herself.

Ben seemed to be able to work with horses and was a self taught veterinarian helping neighbors with their animals. He was also a blacksmith and would sharpen the plow shears and do other jobs for whoever needed his services. His mother had all of the tools at her ranch. He farmed such steep ground that the horses would disappear on the decline slope while the wagon was coming behind. Coyotes would come down right next to the plow and fight with the dogs. He would always rescue any snake that would get in the way of his plow. He would stop the horses and carry the snake to a safer area, knowing that the rodent population would be kept in control if the snakes were helping.

The family all loved swimming and would often go to a natatorium which had natural warm water flowing into it. They loved diving for pennies. There were Indian families living around the area and the Indians would swim in the water above the natatorium.

Life was quiet in the rural areas between the years of 1912 and 1943. They came from horse and buggy days to Model T Fords and even possessed one of those fancy cars! Then in the year 1943 Ben, at the age of 58, began to have heart trouble and passed away on a fall day. Minnie moved to a two room house in American Falls very near her daughter Mildred, and just a block away from her mother, Mary Rose. She continued living here greeting the many grandchildren that lived nearby and tending a garden just outside her door. She was seventy years old when she died.

The Life of Jesse O. Bunyard copied by Eileen O'Neil from
The History of Baker, Grant, Malheur and Harney Counties, Oregon
(published in 1902)

A noble portion of the pioneers work has been done by the estimable gentleman and patriotic citizen, whose life career it is now our privilege to outline, since he spent most of his days on the frontier and has always been in the harness for advancement, and progress, while trying scenes incident to a pioneer's life have all been undergone by him.

Mr Bunyard is a native of Mercer Co, Missouri, being born on October 2, 1843, the son of James Beal and Eliza O'Neal Bunyard. In 1849 the father crossed the dreary plains with oxtteams to California in search of the mining treasures of that land. In 1854 the mother with her 8 children, 5 boys and 3 girls, crossed the plains to Lane Co, Oregon, the trip across the plains for this little family, was a serious undertaking, and they suffered much on the road, for three weeks they were without flour and were forced to kill one of their few oxen for food. In the spring of 1854, they moved on over into Jackson county settling near Ashland where the father took out a donation land claim. They were early pioneers of the county and labored faithfully to make a good home and open a farm. The mother died in 1863 and the father died in 1886.

Our subject gained his education in the little log school house, grew up on a farm, and in 1866 came to Walla Walla, Washington with nine yokes of oxen and wintered on Wildhorse Creek, the following spring he sold his cattle and went to Silver City, Ida. and engaged in freighting from Umatilla Landing. Later he sold his outfit and went to mining and in 1868 he was in Eldorado, and acted as foreman on the rock work of the Eldorado ditch.

After this he went to Lane County and there on July 24, 1870 he married Miss Emma, daughter of George C. and Louisa Duncan, who crossed the plains in 1854 from Iowa to Lane County.

In 1874 Mr. Bunyard moved his family to Jackson Co and worked his father's farm for a time, then came to Silver Lake Valley in 1876. His youngest son, Jim, was the first white child born there. Mr. Bunyard grew the first grain in that valley. In 1886, he sold out there and moved to Harney County, settling in the cow creek county. He raised stock and handled his land to hay mostly.

In June 1901, he bought his present home place of 160 acres of good land, seven miles north east from Harney. He has good buildings, a fine orchard and handles many cows and horses.

To Mr & Mrs Bunyard there have been six children, Mrs. Arvilla Thrash of West Va., Le Roy and James Beal all of Harney County. Mr Bunyard has been in many fights with the Indians and his prowess as a marksman has saved his life in different encounters with them. He was worthily filled his position as frontiersman and real pioneer and builder of Harney County and is highly esteemed by his fellow men 1736 (L) James Bunyard was indicted for stealing one man's hat, value 10s, and 10s in money, the property of Edward Jones, September 1st.

Edward Jones deposed, that he was asleep in a night-house on the outside of Temple-bar, when every body were going to be turned out, about 3 in the morning, he was awaked by the prisoner; that he proposed to treat him for his civility to him, but missing his money, and finding he had an old hat on which the prisoner owned; and the prisoner had got his new one on, he charged him with robbing him; that taking him down Fleet-street, he got the assistance of a watchman, he ran away up Shoe-lane; but he was taken again, and delivered in charge of a constable. (The hat produced and deposed to.)

Edward Sumpter, the constable, deposed, that the prosecutor charged the prisoner with stealing 10s. from him, that there was a half crown among it, and one Birmingham shilling; that in searching he found such a one the prisoner.

The prisoner in his defence said, he was a watch engraver, and worked hard for the money, found upon him; that he had been asleep by the prosecutor, and as his hat had fallen from his head, he, by mistake, took up the prosecutor's instead of his own.

He called John Smith, who deposed, he had brought him up from six or seven months old, till he was fit to be apprentice; that he was then an apprentice to Francis Steadman in Clerkenwell; and that he never beat or any ill of him in his life. Acquitted.

148, 149. (L.) James Bunyard and Joseph Price were indicted for breaking the dwelling house of Harbin Elderton, and stealing 24 yards of silk for handkerchiefs, value 24s. the goods of the said Harbin Elderton, in the said dwelling-house, February 8. *

Harbin Elderton. I am a haberdasher and hosiery, and live in Bishopsgate-street. Yesterday was fortnight, about six in the evening, I was coming out of my parlour, my apprentice said, the thieves were at the window, that had been there before (we suspected some fellows that had been at the window the Monday before) I gave a look, being within a foot of the door, and saw Bunyard take some goods through the glass, and run away with them: candles were lighted in the shop, I went to the window, and found a bit of glass broke out, and some goods gone, I cannot swear to all that was taken; I asked my apprentice if he had seen the thieves? he said, he had; and said, he should know them again: then I thought it necessary to be a little upon the watch, in case they should return. In less than five minutes, Bunyard returned, and took the residue through the hole; he put his hand in, and pulled them out. I saw him move with them in his hand from the window: I followed him immediately. In his running, I cry'd, Stop thief: he ran against a woman, knocked her down, and fell over her; I had not lost sight of him. He was taken, brought back, and committed; he had conveyed the goods away. I can swear he is the man that put his hand in, and took goods out. My goods were taken up by a person and brought into the shop; the prisoner said, he heard the cry, Stop thief, and he ran, in order to catch the thief, and so he fell down. I saw no man running but him, nor none by him, when he took out the goods. (The goods produced.) These are my property, and were lying by the glass which they had broke, within the shop. He told me, he was a watch engraver.

Nathaniel Bristain. I am apprentice to the prosecutor. He sent me to the Compter, to see whether I should know the prisoner, Price; I looked through the rails, and saw all the prisoners together; as soon as I saw Price, I knew him; I believe he is the man I saw with Bunyard, on Wednesday night, when these handkerchiefs were lost. I saw him at the shop window; I cannot swear particularly to Bunyard, but I believe upon my oath, Price was one of the two. I heard the other say, which I suppose to be Bunyard. Where is Joe? at the window, just before the handkerchiefs were taken.

Nathaniel Elbone. Yesterday fortnight, I was going through Bishopsgate-street, about 20 yards from the prosecutor's door, I heard the prisoner, Bunyard, hallow out, Stop thief. There was a gentlewoman, she not giving way, he knock'd her down, and fell over her, and I laid hold of him: the prosecutor came up, and said, he had robbed him of some handkerchiefs, from his shop window. The prisoner said, he was running after a thief that was gone before: there was no other person past me, but the prisoner. As I had hold of his collar, I saw him pull his hand out of his pocket; I said, are you going to pull any thing out? he took his hand out; I did not see any thing fall; but in about ten minutes after he was in the prosecutor's shop, the handkerchiefs were brought in by a stranger.

Bunyard's Defence.

I was going past the shop, and heard the gentleman run out, and cry, Stop thief: a man ran; he was within three yards of me. I should have laid hold of him, but a woman was in my way: I ran against her, and threw her down, and fell myself. Then they came and took hold of me: the man ran down Spittal-square, I live in Cross-lane, High-Holborn, and can earn a guinea and a half a week. I was going to meet one James More, at the Coach and Horses, in Shoreditch, the house of Richard Swift.

Bunyard guilty of Felony only. T. Price Acquitted.

See Bunyard tried before, No. 366. in last mayoralty.

I saw no man running but him, nor none by him, when he took out the goods. (The goods produced.) These are my property, and were lying by the glass which they had broke, within the shop. He told me, he was a watch engraver.

Nathaniel Brittain. I am apprentice to the prosecutor. He sent me to the Compter, to see whether I should know the prisoner, Price; I looked through the rails, and saw all the prisoners together; as soon as I saw Price, I knew him; I believe he is the man I saw with Bunyard, on Wednesday night, when these handkerchiefs were lost. I saw him at the shop window; I cannot swear particularly to Bunyard, but I believe upon my oath, Price was one of the two. I heard the other say, which I suppose to be Bunyard. Where is Joe? at the window, just before the handkerchiefs were taken.

Nathaniel Elbone. Yesterday fortnight, I was going through Bishopsgate-street, about 20 yards from the prosecutor's door, I heard the prisoner, Bunyard, hallow out, Stop thief. There was a gentlewoman, she not giving way, he knock'd her down, and fell over her, and I laid hold of him: the prosecutor came up, and said, he had robbed him of some handkerchiefs, from his shop window. The prisoner said, he was running after a thief that was gone before: there was no other person past me, but the prisoner. As I had hold of his collar, I saw him pull his hand out of his pocket; I said, are you going to pull any thing out? he took his hand out; I did not see any thing fall; but in about ten minutes after he was in the prosecutor's shop, the handkerchiefs were brought in by a stranger.

Bunyard's Defence.

I was going past the shop, and heard the gentleman run out, and cry, Stop thief: a man ran; he was within three yards of me. I should have laid hold of him, but a woman was in my way; I ran against her, and threw her down, and fell myself. Then they came and took hold of me: the man ran down Spittal-square. I live in Cross-lane, High-Holborn, and can earn a guinea and a half a week. I was going to meet one James More, at the Coach and Horses, in Shoreditch, the house of Richard Swift.

Bunyard guilty of Felony only. T. Price Acquitted.

See Bunyard tried before, No. 366, in last mayoralty.

The trials being ended; the court proceeded to Judgment

To be transported for seven years.

NOTE: (James Bunyard was among a list of 45 persons sentenced to be transported to the American Colonies, see original copy of proceedings for a complete listing.)

AMERICAN COLONIES

Upon arrival in the American Colonies, English convicts were faced with the uncertainty of being bought by planters to labor on their plantations and cultivate their ground. They were driven through the country like cattle to market and exposed to sale in public fairs. If they tried to escape they were generally found and compelled to serve a month for every week they were gone or a year for every month they were gone. They were obliged to pay the cost of advertising and for the expenses of bringing them back which often prolonged their slavery four or five years longer. A favorite refuge for runaway servants was North Carolina because land titles were in a state of confusion and because land could be obtained very cheaply.

After their period of slavery was over, they could acquire plantations of their own and from the knowledge they had gleaned while a slave they would be quite adept to agriculture, raising cattle, etc. By the time of the Declaration of Independence, England had sent over 40,000 inmates to the colonies. Most of them survived and within the space of their own lifetime would achieve freedom and respectability. Those who were transported for their petty crimes were largely illiterate and have left us few records of their sufferings and later their achievements. Few questions were asked of them by those who chose to hire them.

There was little to distinguish a convict from an indentured servant once the ocean was crossed. An indentured servant, if over the age of 15, could bind himself over to a shipping merchant who, in return for giving him free passage to America, could sell him into servitude for a period from two to seven years. In the shipping trade, no distinction was made between a convict and a free man but the term "servant" was applied to either category.

After being transported by the ship Tyral which probably took about three grueling months getting to America, we have no idea which port James Beal Bunyard entered, where he served his seven year indenture, whether he was a runaway or whether he served his full time. He came to America as a 20 years old young man and by the time he was 34 years of age had begun purchasing land in in the Roaring River area and later in the New River area in North Carolina. Under a 1777 law land could be bought for approximately 6 cents an acre. An unmarried man was allowed to buy 640 acres at that rate. A married man was allowed to buy even more, 100 acres for his wife and 100 for each child. Somehow James was able to acquire large tracts of land (see Chapter X).

Even though James Beal Bunyard had committed a crime in England, he was punished for it, acquired his freedom and earned respectability. His wife, Hannah, his six sons, and his two daughters no doubt shared in his prosperity and his hard won freedom. We can all thank him for his accomplishments, his humiliations, and his sufferings. We are a part of this great family-- and haven't we all made some mistakes we have regretted (but didn't get caught!) so let's be forgiving and acknowledge the part he played in our own lives.

The Passengers on the Ship Tryal

The ship Tryal embarked from England March 1764 with 166 passengers and Capt. W. McGachin. They landed in America any time from March to May 1764. We do not know where they landed - any where from Maryland to North Carolina. On other trips the Tryal landed in Maryland and Virginia.

We have no knowledge of 11. James Beal Bunyard from 1764 for a period of 10 years. In 1774 James and wife, Hannah, were living in Surrey Co, North Carolina. If we knew where he had been, we might be able to find their marriage record or Hannah's maiden name or her family.

Perhaps some future research will find where other passengers spent their first few years or where they landed.
